MARCH "HARE AND HOUNDS"

It was certainly a dandy group of hounds that set out the 23rd to bag the illusive hare. Thirty-eight cars checked in with the starter and began gaily to follow red lines (and other hounds) up and down the countryside. One black TR3 made the circuit thru Alvo three times... and I expect the citizens of that dust-tortured little town were glad when it finally got off the merry-go-round that went of Cotner to eat. Only half the hounds completed the course - so there were many of us who failed to recognize the difference between "vertical" and "horizontal" or in some other way misdirected ourselves. BJ Versley, Ray and Chris Petersen did the honors on the committee, and we were sorry that Clyde Versley's AF duties kept him away. I'm sure he'll be pleased to hear how successfully his hare eluded the pack.

BADGES

Let's take advantage of Jim Loyd and Sandy Downs being Johnny-on-the-spot with their "badge bags" at all our events. We're proud of our cars and our SCCA membership, so let's show it to all and sundry.

MARCH MEETING

The Nebraska Region's first experiment with a mid-year meeting and social was well attended and afforded an opportunity for some interesting discussion of the problems of our club's management and activities. As a result each member under separate mailing will be asked to vote on the issues presented.

MANIFOLD MUTTERINGS

An especially interesting article appeared in SPORTS ILLUSTRATED-March 31 issue - on the Sebring Race. The author was astonished by the tiny 747cc Italian CSCA. Mr. and Mrs. Alexandor de Tomaso placed 8th and won the "index of performance", assisted by a third driver, Texas' Robert Ferguson.

In next month's EXHAUST NOTES we hope to inaugurate a new column. As a service to members we will endeavor to publish any and all ads to buy, sell or barter tires, tubes, spare parts, old computers, second place trophies or what have you. So if you need either to get something or get rid of it, let us know.

Your editor is eager to have your contributions to EXHAUST NOTE'S columns, corrections and criticisms (in that order). Address:

NEW MEMBERS

At the latest count we have 73 members in our Nebraska Region SCCA. Some of these names are familiar to the membership and some are brand new members. To each of you we all say "Welcome", and we sincerely hope your association with the club will be a happy experience for you. Add these names and your membership list will be complete. There are additional lists available for any who wish to have them.
